Ninja Assassin The filmmakers behind The Matrix and V for Vendetta bring new blood (lots of it!) to martial arts movies in Ninja Assassin. Korean pop star Rain (Speed Racer) stars as heroic, deadly Raizo. Trained from childhood in the way of the Ozunu Clan ninja, he is stalked by fellow warriors for breaking free of them and their iron-willed dojo patriarch (martial arts legend Sho Kosugi) - and is on the run with a Europol agent (Naomie Harris) who has proof the clan sells assassination services to governments. The action is start-to-finish - fast, fierce, filled with weaponry (chains, swords, staffs, shuriken) and awesome athleticism. Fear not the weapon, but the hand that wields it. Warner

Gentlemen Broncos Mount your battle stag, grab a popcorn ball and get ready to laugh your head off at Gentlemen Broncos! The director of Napoleon Dynamite (Jared Hess) and co-star of Flight Of The Conchords (Jemaine Clement) team up to bring you the story of Benjamin Purvis (Michael Angarano), a lovable loner whose life is turned upside down when a pretentious fantasy author steals his story at a writers camp. Jennifer Coolidge (American Pie) and Mike White (School Of Rock) join a hysterical cast of oddball characters in this "fun, quirky comedy. Fox

Broken Embraces A luminous Penélope Cruz stars as an actress who sacrifices everything for true love in Broken Embraces, Academy Award -winning filmmaker (2003, Best Writing, Original Screenplay, Talk to Her) Pedro Almodóvar's acclaimed tale of sex, secrets and cinema. When her father becomes gravely ill, beautiful Lena (Cruz) consents to a relationship with her boss Ernesto (José Luis Gómez), a very wealthy, much-older man who pays for her father's hospitalization and provides her a lavish lifestyle. But Lena's dream is to act and soon she falls for the director of her first film - a project bankrolled by her husband to keep her near. Upon his discovery of the affair, Ernesto stops at nothing to ruin Lena's happiness. Sony

Possession Sarah Michelle Gellar stars in this eerie mystery thriller as Jessica, a young woman whose nearly perfect marriage with Ryan (Michael Landes, Final Destination 2) is marred only by the regular interference of Ryan's reckless and self-absorbed brother, Roman (Lee Pace of The Fall and TV's Pushing Daisies). Jessica's world comes crashing down when both her husband and brother-in-law get into a devastating car crash and fall into comas. But when only the difficult Roman wakes up, he claims to actually be Ryan. In fact, he knows things about Jessica that Roman couldn't possibly know. Now Jessica must expose the truth: can souls move between bodies? Or is this phenomenon the work of a much more sinister force? POSSESSION is a gripping tale of romance and mistrust in the mend-bending tradition of Birth and Vanilla Sky. Fox

Matlock Season 4 This 80's TV show features Ben Matlock, a defense attorney who was raised in Georgia and educated at Harvard. He charges $100,000 per case but he always finds the real criminal. Other characters on the Matlock legal drama series were: daughters and lawyers Charlene and Leanne; Matlock's investigators Tyler Hudson, Conrad McMasters and Cliff Lewis. Ben's girlfriend, associate D.A. Julie March; and his contact on the Atlanta police, Lt. Bob Brooks. Playing wily attorney Ben Matlock, Andy Griffith returns for another round of courtroom drama. This time out, he investigates a trio of his college buddies indicted for a 30-year-old murder and defends a circus clown accused of killing his partner. Making guest appearances in the show's fourth season are Don Knotts, Fred Dalton Thompson, David Carradine, Samantha Eggar, James Eckhouse and Gail O'Grady. CBS/Paramount

Have Gun Will Travel Season 4, Volume 1 Relive the adventures of Paladin in Have Gun - Will Travel - Season 4, Volume One; a thrilling 3-disc set containing the first 19 episodes from the fourth season of this classic TV series. Paladin (Richard Boone), a gentleman and a gunfighter, prefers to settle problems without violence. Yet, when forced to fight, he excels. Using the Carlton Hotel in San Francisco as his home base, Paladin ventures forth whenever needed, righting wrongs and lending a heroic hand. From assisting an around-the-world traveler to helping solve the mystery of a vanishing princess, this Season Four volume takes Paladin from one exciting adventure to the next!. In Season 4 When not meting out Wild West-style justice, Paladin (Richard Boone) lives it up at a posh San Francisco hotel. But if trouble arises, the hired gun dons his knight-embossed holster and trademark calling cards ("Have gun, will travel") and rides in to save the day. This collection includes episodes from the first half of the show's fourth season, and features guest appearances by Martin Balsam, Robert Blake and Ken Curtis of "Gunsmoke. CBS/Paramount

Walker Texas Ranger Season 7 Texas Ranger Cordell Walker, one of the last old-fashioned heroes of the West, is a protective friend but a relentless foe who will stop at nothing to bring a criminal to justice. Walker works on instinct, often drawing on the traditions of his Native American ancestors. His partner, James Trivette, has a more modern approach to crime-solving. C.D. Parker, a retired Ranger, and Alex Cahill, the county assistant district attorney who shares a mutual attraction with Walker, support the Rangers in their battle to serve justice. In Season 7 Tragedy touches Texas Ranger Cordell Walker (Chuck Norris) and his hardworking crew in the seventh season of this long-running CBS series, a show that blends fast-paced martial arts action with old-fashioned values. As the cliffhanger from the previous season unfolds, assistant DA Alex Cahill (Sheree J. Wilson) lies in a coma after being shot at a friend's wedding, and Walker is determined to exact revenge on the weapons dealer who harmed her. CBS/aramount

Hawaii Five-O Season 8 Hawaii Five-0 is the name of a special police unit consisting of no more than four men at a time, although it can freely call upon the Honolulu Police Department for more men if needed. Answerable only to the governor, Five-0 investigates the most important and sensational crimes, ranging from murder and kidnapping to terrorism and international espionage. Five-0's leader is ex-Navy Intelligence investigator Steve McGarrett, a tough Irish cop possessed with a determined nature, a hatred of crime and an elaborate bouffant hairdo. Other Five-0 personnel included Dan Williams, second-in-command and "Dan-O" to McGarrett; pipe-smoking Chinese Chin Ho Kelly, native Hawaiian Kono; Samoan detective Ben Kokua; and Hawaiian Duke Lukela, who worked his way up from patrolman. McGarrett's archenemy was Red Chinese agent Wo Fat, whose plans were always thwarted by McGarrett, and who always managed to escape the reach of the law--at least until the final episode. Dedicated detective Steve McGarrett (Jack Lord) and his No. 1 lieutenant "Danno" Williams (James MacArthur) fight crime and bring down the bad guys on the mean streets of the Hawaiian Isles in the eighth season of this enduring classic crime drama. Guest stars in this season include well-known greats such as Charles Durning, Ed Asner, George Takei, Simon Oakland of "Night Stalker" fame, Harold Gould, Donna Mills and more. CBS/Paramount

Nova: Becoming Human Unearthing Our Earliest Ancestors Nothing is more fascinating to us than, well, us. Where did we come from? What makes us human? NOVA's groundbreaking investigation explores how new discoveries are transforming views of our earliest ancestors. Featuring interviews with world-renowned scientists, footage shot in the trenches as fossils were unearthed, and stunning computer-generated animation, Becoming Human brings early hominids to life, examining how they lived and how we became the creative and adaptable modern humans of today. In the first episode, NOVA encounters Selam, the amazingly complete remains of a 3 million year-old child, packed with clues to why we split from the apes, came down from the trees, and started walking upright. In gripping forensic detail, the second episode investigates the riddle of Turkana Boy - a tantalizing fossil of Homo erectus, the first ancestor to leave Africa and colonize the globe. What led to this first great African exodus? In the final episode, Becoming Human explores the origins of us -where modern humans and our capacities for art, invention, and survival came from, and what happened when we encountered the mysterious Neanderthals. Crucial new evidence comes from the recent decoding of the Neanderthal genome. Did modern humans interbreed with Neanderthals? Exterminate them? Becoming Human examines why we survived while our other ancestral cousins-including Indonesia's bizarre 3 foot-high Hobbit -died out. And NOVA poses the intriguing question: are we still evolving today?. PBS

What Are Dreams? Inside The Sleeping Brain What are dreams and why do we have them? NOVA joins the leading dream researchers as they embark on a variety of neurological and psychological experiments to investigate the world of sleep and dreams. Delving deep into the thoughts and brains of a variety of dreamers, scientists are asking important questions about the purpose of this mysterious world we escape to at night. Do dreams allow us to get a good night's sleep? Do they improve our memory? Do they allow us to be more creative? Can they solve our problems or even help us survive the hazards of everyday life? NOVA follows researchers like the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Matthew Wilson who is literally eavesdropping on the dreams of rats and takes viewers into a sleep lab for a first-hand look at how scientists do their best to eavesdrop on human dreams. From those who violently act out their dreams to those who can't stop their nightmares, from sleepwalking cats to people who can't dream, each fascinating experiment contains a vital clue to the age-old question: What are dreams?. PBS

Capitalism: A Love Story Twenty years after his influential debut, Roger & Me, Michael Moore returns to his roots by pulling back the curtain on capitalism to reveal the insidious role it has played in the destruction of the American dream for many people. Back in 1989, auto workers in Flint, MI, were lamenting layoffs and wondering how they would support their families without jobs to pay the bills, or benefits to ensure their health. Flash forward two decades, when cities all across the country are feeling the same pressures that Flint residents were back when GM left them high and dry. With an average of 14,000 U.S. jobs lost every day and taxpayer money constantly being pumped into failing financial institutions, the question must be asked: how long can this go on before the entire system collapses? Is there really any hope for Americans who are losing their homes to foreclosure and seeing their savings get wiped out at an unprecedented rate? In order to seek out an answer to this question and many more, Moore takes a trip to our nation's capitol, engaging average Americans in conversations about the prospect of repairing America's failing, debt-ridden economy along the way. Anchor Bay

Amelia Earhart *Queen of the Air What really happened to Amelia Earhart? Join the award winning Biography series in their search for the truth. Earhart became the first female pilot to complete a solo flight across the Atlantic Ocean (the first person to succeed since Charles Lindburgh's legendary flight in 1927). Earhart saw her first plane as a young girl at the 1908 Iowa State Fair in Des Moines, Iowa, but flying would not spark her interest until many years later. After her parents' separation in 1914, Earhart traveled to Chicago with her mother and sister, Muriel. From there, Earhart traveled to Toronto, Canada, where she trained and worked as a nurses' aide for the duration of World War I. By 1920, she had purchased her first plane and taken her first solo flight. Earhart became the first woman to fly across the Atlantic Ocean in 1928, as a passenger. Earhart's subsequent solo flight across the Atlantic in 1932 set a record for speed. In 1937 she embarked on an equatorial world trip, hoping to be the first woman to successfully circumnavigate the world. Radio contact with the U.S. Coast Guard off of Howland Island, her next stop in the Pacific, was made on several occasions, but Earhart apparently could not hear any of the coast guard's replies. Several extensive searches for Earhart's plane revealed nothing and the incident remains unsolved. Using archival footage, Biography tries to piece together some answers. A&E

The People Speak Using dramatic and musical performances of the letters, diaries and speeches of everyday Americans, The People Speak focuses on the concept of democracy based on the lives and experiences of ordinary Americans who, through their words and actions, changed the course of history. Narrated by Howard Zinn and based on his bestselling book, A People's History of the United States, and Voices of a People's History, this groundbreaking documentary film illustrates the relevance of these passionate historical moments to our society today, reminding us that democracy is not a spectator sport and to never take liberty for granted. A journey from the founding of this country to the civil rights movement and beyond, The People Speak uses star power to celebrate democracy: executive producer Matt Damon reads from The Declaration of Independence; Bruce Springsteen performs Woody Guthrie's "This Land Is Your Land"; while other accomplished performers, including Morgan Freeman, Marisa Tomei, Josh Brolin, Viggo Mortensen, Kerry Washington, Bob Dylan and Eddie Vedder lend their voices to help re-create the emotional impact of these moments in history. A&E

The Bible Stories: Jesus Jeremy Sisto stars as the son of God in this 174 minute production that vividly explores the life and mission of Jesus of Nazareth. Epic in scale and featuring a strong supporting cast (Gary Oldman, Debra Messing, Jacqueline Bisset, Luca Zingaretti, Jeroen Krabbé, Armin Mueller-Stahl and David O'Hara), this drama traces Jesus' journey from simple carpenter to spiritual leader, philosopher and martyr—focusing on his compassionate teachings as well as his relationships with Mary, Joseph, his apostles, persecutors, and the heavenly father. The film focuses on a more on Jesus as the human, showing him in happiness, sadness and interaction with the apostles and the people he comes across. His story is retold from how Joseph's death affected Jesus, Mary telling Jesus of him coming to fulfill the prophecy, his journey to the sermon of the mount, facing temptation from Satan, the selection of the twelve Apostles, the Last Supper and the Crucifixion and his resurrection. Sony

The Bible Stories: Esther Part of a four volume video Bible series, Esther is the story of Ahasuerus, a King of Persia whom disowns his wife after she ignores his orders, and begins a quest to replace her. He meets a beautiful young Jewish girl named Esther whom he instantly falls in love with, without knowing of her Jewish heritage. She asks the King to halt a planned genocide of the Jews by his right hand man Haman. He does so, and in turn paves the way for her their return to Jerusalem. Sony

Carny A traveling carnival unleashes terror in a small Nebraska town when the main attraction manages to break free, and embarks on a carnivorous rampage across the countryside. The locals paid good money to see the abomination known as the Jersey Devil. When the creature escapes, however, their curiosity quickly turns to terror. As local sheriff Sam Atlas (Lou Diamond Phillips) rounds up a posse to track the vicious man-eater, the town pastor hatches his own plan for killing the monster that tore his son to shreds. Vivendi

The Human Spark with Alan Alda Drawing on the theory that a catalytic "spark" converted humankind from just another species to planetary top dog, actor and science enthusiast Alan Alda spearheads a transcontinental hunt for the origins of that signal shift. The pursuit begins among the paleolithic cave paintings of Lascaux, leads to a comparison study of humans and chimps in Puerto Rico, then lands Alda back where he started in a detailed neuro-scan of his own brain. PBS

Miles From Nowhere A high school football star clashes with his coach and his father when he joins the track team to accomplish a goal set by his late best friend. When John is killed in a car accident, Cameron (Andrew Lawrence) blames himself for the tragedy, and vows to accomplish his friend's goal of setting a new record on the mile run. Cameron's altruistic mission is jeopardized, however, when he runs into opposition from both his father (Treat Williams) and his coach, who feel that may be throwing away a future in football by switching sports at such an inopportune time. But the harder they work to convince Cameron he's wrong, the sharper the young athlete's focus and determination becomes. Genius

Relative Stranger A former professional football player abandons his family after a series of disheartening career setbacks, only to discover the power of forgiveness after losing his father. When Walter Clemens' (Eriq La Salle) dreams came crashing down, he couldn't bear the thought of disappointing his family. Shortly thereafter, Walter's father dies, devastating the family as they come together for the reading of his will. No one expected to see Walter there, and at first his presence only serves to reopen old wounds. The full impact of his actions finally setting in, Walter embraces his faith and begins taking the first steps toward reuniting his fractured family. Genius

Soldier Love Story The pen-pal friendship between a young boy and a homesick soldier blossoms into something much more meaningful in this warmhearted tale of family and courage. Sgt. Vince Carerra (Johnny Messner) is serving his country overseas when he starts a correspondence with Jared Marshall, a young boy still reeling from his parents' recent divorce. Estranged from his father, Jared confides his pain in Vince in between colorful exchanges about baseball. Upon returning home, Vince meets Jared and his mother Dana (Lori Loughlin), and soon finds himself falling for the newly-single mother. Before long, the trio has formed a family. Their momentary bliss is soon shattered, however, when Vince discovers he's about to be redeployed, and realizes his role as a father figure will soon take a backseat to his role as a soldier. Genius
